SAHAYAK

The 60-second pitch — word for word

Team Aasra · MNIT Jaipur · SPHINX'26 · Minute To Pitch It

0:00–0:08 HOOK

Ten crore Indians are over sixty. When they fall ill, one person in the family carries all of it — and she is alone.

0:08–0:20 PROBLEM

Eighty-eight lakh live with dementia. Only one in ten gets any care. Families give ten times more care than the health system does.

0:20–0:40 SOLUTION

So we built Sahayak — an app for that caregiver. Every morning it tells her, in her own language, what to do. A circle of families to ask. And a verified helper, booked for a few hours, so she can rest. Her son in Pune gets a daily note.

0:40–0:50 BUSINESS

It costs ₹199 a month. Urban home care costs fifteen to seventy-five thousand. Hospitals and employers are how we scale.

0:50–1:00 THE ASK

We are asking for your mentorship and one hospital pilot, to reach a hundred families. Put a helper beside every caregiver.

HOW TO SAY IT

- Stop after “she is alone.” Let the room sit for one second — that pause is the whole pitch.
- Do not read the slide. The slide has four words; you say the sentence.
- Numbers slow and clear: ten crore · eighty-eight lakh · one in ten · ₹199.
- At 0:40 open the phone and say “this is live”. Two taps, then keep talking.
- End on “every caregiver.” Do not say thank you before it.

IF THEY CUT YOU TO 30 SECONDS

Ten crore Indians are over sixty, and one person in the family carries the care alone. Eighty-eight lakh live with dementia; one in ten gets any help. Sahayak is an app for that caregiver: a daily voice guide, a circle of families, and a verified helper when she needs rest. ₹199 a month, against ₹15,000 for home care. We want your mentorship and one hospital pilot.

If you forget everything else, remember three things: 88 lakh · 1 in 10 · ₹199
